Mr. John Aitken's theory of fogs is gaining credence, and is certainly on that has much to recommend it. There can be so question that it covers the ground better than any other. Mr. Altkin attributes the production of mists, fogs and rain to the presence of particles of solid matter in the atmo there. Prof. Tyndail was the first to emonstrate how the atmosphere coul be filtered, and to show it in a compuratively pure state.
